Welcome to this week's newsletter...

As usual, all the children enjoyed going into the Life Education Van, and learned some valuable lessons about healthy eating, safety and friendships amongst other things. The teacher's will now follow up these themes in PSHE (personal, social and health education lessons).

Thank you to everyone who sent in their £1 contribution. Well done to all the children and staff who completed the mile run around the field.

The children celebrated by viewing an online Roald Dahl day party, and completing Roald Dahl activities in their classrooms.

Extra-curricular activities are starting next week. You should have received letters with information for your child's year group. I will put information on the school website and on the windows in school. You can always collect lost letters from Miss Slater on Reception. More activities will be on offer as the term progresses.

Guitar and ukulele lessons are available to children from Year 2 upwards at a cost of £4 per week. If you would like your child to take part in these lessons, please see Mrs Rowan.

Maths Homework (Years 1-6) – within the next two weeks, you will be sent a letter to inform you of our new on-line maths homework. This will contain your child's log in details.

complete it at home.

If you would like some support getting started with this, or you do not have access to a computer to complete the homework, please come in to school to speak to Miss Gervis or Mrs Rowan. We will be offering a homework club to complete on-line homework tasks for those children unable to Please remember the speed limit in the village and drive carefully. Children walk to and from school using the pavements and cars shouldn't be mounting the pavement. Thank you

The children really enjoyed going to Darwen Leisure Centre for their first swimming session and meeting Harold again in the Life Education Van. They learned all about the functions of the organs and safe and harmful activities.

I hope you can join me for our welcome meeting which will be Monday 19th at 3:30 or 5:30. If you can't attend, PowerPoint hand-outs will be provided with the information.
